I-LASER 1940

I-LASER is a semiconductor diode device with a 1940nm wavelength, which bases its interaction in the various fields of application by exploiting the absorption of water and fat.

The eclecticism of I-LASER, in synergy with the range of dedicated accessories, allows you to obtain excellent results in the following treatments:

- Tightening face and body (I-LIFT)
- Laser-assisted liposuction (I-MELT)
- Cellulitis treatment (I-CELL)

I-LASER emits a laser beam through 400 or 1000nm micron fibers inserted in cannulas with different diameters (1-3-4 mm) to ensure maximum emission control.

The cutting-edge technology of I-LASER allows you to create a controlled thermal effect for tissue tightening or to dissolve fat cells in a safer, less invasive way and with reduced convalescence times unlike classic treatments.

Cleared by

I|LIFT

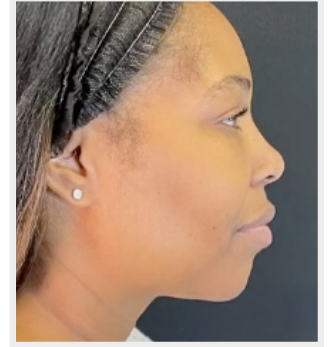

I-LIFT is an out patient treatment for a mini surgical face lift.

Non invasive procedure for :

- The lower middle third remodeling
- toning and stimulation of collagen and elastin
- Double chin remodeling
- Skin laxity remodeling (arms, abdomen and innerthighs)

Before

After

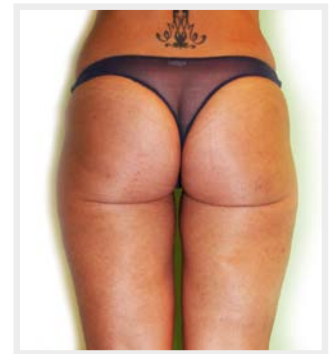

I|MELT

I-MELT is a laser-assisted liposuction with coaxial suction that allows the operator to limit risks by guaranteeing high-performance treatment:

- Fat removal in multiple body areas
- Tissue toning
- Silhouette reshaping

Before

After

I|CELL

I-CELL is a revolutionary controlled microsurgical system that works by releasing the skin surface from the traction of fibrous strands (orange peel effect)

Using a microcannula with an optical fiber, selective lateral incision of the septa is performed, and a specific formulation is subsequently inserted to prevent the reformation of fibrous tissue, immediately giving the skin a smooth and even appearance.
